

At OMNI The Future is Looking Good

Working with lenders to reduce loan risk and increase bank revenue—OMNI's history of service is one of pioneering solutions. With patented products designed specifically to address many of the weaknesses in traditional lending models, OMNI offers the type of sound risk management tools appreciated by demanding risk management professionals.

In the '90s, OMNI anticipated lenders' needs by developing Construction-2-Perm Builders Risk (C2P). Our patented online insurance portal provides client-friendly access to superior protection for both lender and borrower during the course of construction, and converts seamlessly into permanent coverage when the project is complete. What was once a source of risk is now a source of customer satisfaction and increased revenue for the lender. In the past ten years we have served over 4,000 lenders by making 100,000+ loans more secure. More recently, OMNI has been working to make "problem loans" less of a problem with proactive solutions designed to mitigate risk and improve bank results.

What will the future hold? We see more opportunities to serve and we are ready. We see more effective risk management and increased bank revenue. We see more innovative solutions. We see you and OMNI: A formula that works.

Together, we can build a more certain future. Sound risk management strategies are seldom implemented too soon. Call us at (877) 353-6664 to talk about new ideas that change the equation to work in your favor.
